Celebrating America's Veterans

On Veterans Day, we honor all veterans, past and present. It is a day of remembrance, but also of celebration. This year, Veterans Day is 11.11.11, and there are many events around the country to honor those who have served in our Armed Forces.

The House Committee on Veterans' Affairs hopes you are able to be with America's heroes this Veterans Day. To that end, we have put together this special 11.11.11 brochure for your use. From VA benefits to legislation the U.S. House of Representatives has passed this year to direct mail ideas or hosting an event, we have tried to include information from all parts of the country, including a comprehensive list of veterans by district.

This year, we are very proud that we have passed 13 bills for our veterans and their families. All passed with overwhelming bipartisan support. Three are now law, and we are hopeful that the remaining 10 will be soon! Each of you has contributed to making the lives of our veterans better, and we appreciate your efforts both here in Washington and back home.

As in years past, it is importance that all of us honor our veterans and their families not just on Veterans Day, but every day of the year. The Committee has put together a special video honoring our veterans and also to remind Americans how to show their support for our veterans, young and old. Please visit www.Veterans.House.Gov/AmericasHeroes to view the video and send it to the veterans in your district.

Also, be sure to keep up with the Committee at Veterans.House.Gov, or on Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube.

As always, if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call us at (202) 225-3527.

We wish each of you a happy and safe Veterans Day.

Thank you for your continued support of America's veterans and their families.

— The House Committee on Veterans' Affairs

Benefits

Veterans are entitled many benefits earned through their service in the U.S. Armed Forces. Below are the Top 10 veterans' benefits accessed by veterans, but more are available. To learn more, please visit the Federal Benefits for Veterans.

VA Healthcare
Eligible veterans are entitled to receive health care at VA Medical Centers and clinics around the country. For additional information on eligibility, locations, and services, please visit www.va.gov/health.

Disability Compensation
Disability compensation is awarded to veterans who are injured as a result of their military service. The amount given to each individual is based on the severity of their injuries. For additional information, please visit www.godirect.gov.

VA Pensions
Service-connected disabled veterans over the age of 65 may be eligible for monetary support through a VA pension. For additional information, please visit http://www.vba.va.gov/bln/21/pension/vetpen.htm.

Caregiver Support
VA now offers caregiver support for family caregivers of certain eligible service-connected disabled veterans. For additional information, please visit http://www.caregiver.va.gov.

Post-9/11 GI Bill
The Post-9/11 GI Bill provides education benefits for veterans who served on active duty on, or after, September 11, 2001. Benefits can be used for traditional post graduate programs, vocational programs, technical, or apprenticeships. For additional information, please visit www.gibill.va.gov.

VA Home Loan Program
VA home loan guarantees are given to eligible veterans, servicemembers, reservists, and certain unmarried surviving spouses to help them purchase a home. For additional information, please visit www.homeloans.va.gov.

Vocational Rehab
Vocational Rehab is a program to help veterans with service-connected disabilities obtain and maintain suitable employment through training. For additional information, please visit www.vetsuccess.gov.

Suicide Prevention
Veterans who are having a difficult time are encouraged to call the VA suicide prevention hotline. The hotline connects veterans with professionals at VA trained to help. To post the VA Suicide Prevention web banner on your website, please click here.

VetCenters
VetCenters offer readjustment counseling to veterans as they transition back into civilian life. They also provide counseling for the families of servicemembers who were killed in action. There are nearly 300 VetCenters in the United States. To find a location near you, please visit http://www.vetcenter.va.gov.

Burial and Memorial Services
Veterans may be eligible for burial and memorial benefits at a VA national cemetery, which includes a headstone and a flag. For additional information, please visit www.cem.va.gov.

Engaging Veterans in Your District

Reach out to the unemployed veterans in your district by hosting a Veterans Job Summit to discuss how your district can better connect veterans who are unemployed with local opportunities!

- ★ Pick a central location, preferably of historic or military significance, for your Summit.
- ★ Invite local businesses, Veterans Service Organizations (VSOs), and your local Chamber of Commerce to the Summit to listen to their concerns and learn about issues that may be specific to your district.
- ★ Invite local media to cover the event. The most cited issue the Committee hears from companies looking to hire veterans is they don't know where to find veterans to hire! Media will help spread the message to veterans who may not hear about the Summit.
- ★ Promote the Summit through your local VSOs and new media outlets.
- ★ Speak at the Summit and talk about what Congress is doing to address veteran unemployment – the VOW Act (H.R. 2433). Remember, nearly 1 million veterans are currently out of work.
- ★ Set an agenda to include presentations by the companies who have excelled in hiring veterans.
- ★ Provide veterans who attend the Summit with tips on interviewing, resume writing, career guidance, and contact information for the companies in attendance. Provide the companies who attend the Summit with a listing of your local VSOs and State Department of Labor.
- ★ Be sure to webcast the Summit on your website.
- ★ After the Summit, post all presentations, handouts, and webcast online as a resource for veterans. See Veterans.House.Gov/Summit.
- ★ Submit an op-ed to your local newspaper about what you learned at the Summit and what you are doing to help veterans find employment.
- ★ Report findings from the Summit to the Committee at (202) 225-3527.

Direct mail is still a great way to communicate with veterans in your district. Following is a sample insert for your use in a Franked Mail piece.

So far this year, the U.S. House of Representatives has passed 13 bills to provide better support America's veterans and ensure improved healthcare and programs through the Department of Veterans Affairs. I have voted YES on all these bills.

I have voted to protect veterans from budget cuts:

- ★ Funding for our military and veterans are among our highest priorities. That will remain the case in the tight budget years ahead.
- ★ Mandatory spending for veterans' programs were protected from any cuts in the Budget Control Act passed earlier this year.

I am also dedicated to get our veterans out of unemployment lines and into the workforce:

- ★ Currently, 1 million veterans are out of work. Sixty-six percent of those are over the age of 34 and are facing an increasingly competitive job market.
- ★ That is why I voted for the Veterans Opportunity to Work Act (the VOW Act, H.R. 2433) to provide our veterans with the skills and training needed to compete in the 21st Century and to ensure that our servicemembers have a job when they come home.
- ★ Through the VOW Act, we will create the most qualified veteran workforce since World War II.
- ★ In addition, we passed the VOW Act without increasing the federal deficit.

I also stand with America's veterans to ensure they receive the benefits they have so rightly earned:

- ★ I voted to keep our student veterans in the college of their choice through the Restoring GI Bill Fairness Act, which was signed into law this summer. Without this change, student veterans across the country would have been subject to severe reductions in tuition payments.
- ★ I voted to start reforming the disability compensation claims process through the Veterans' Benefits Act. Our veterans face an average claims processing time of 230 days. This is unacceptable. We must turn the corner and ensure that claims are processed accurately the first time they are submitted and in a timely manner.
- ★ I voted to protect veterans, their families, and VA employees from sexual assault in VA facilities through the Veterans Sexual Assault Prevention and Health Care Enhancement Act. When our veterans are at their most vulnerable, we must do everything possible to ensure their safety.
- ★ And, I voted to improve the aging VA infrastructure around the country to provide better care for our veterans through the Veterans Health Care Facilities Capital Improvement Act of 2011. INSERT SENTENCE ABOUT IMPROVEMENTS IN YOUR DISTRICT/STATE. CALL THE COMMITTEE FOR EXAMPLES AT (202) 225-3527.

Awarding a Purple Heart to a servicemember who has been wounded in defense of our Nation is one of the moving and gratifying ceremonies in which to participate.

The History of the Purple Heart

The first Purple Heart was awarded by George Washington during the Revolutionary War on August 7, 1782. The "Badge of Military Merit" was the first U.S. commendation for the common solider and is the oldest military decoration still in use. The Purple Heart officially became a U.S. military medal in 1932 on the 200th anniversary of George Washington's birth when General Douglas MacArthur re-instituted the award to recognize soldiers for meritorious service and wounds received in action. All soldiers who had been wounded in action (including past wars) could personally apply for the medal. The Purple Heart medal is shaped as a heart, filled with purple enamel with a gold bust of George Washington and Washington's coat-of-arms on top. The back is engraved with "For Military Merit" with space for the recipient's name.

Participating in a Purple Heart Ceremony

Purple Heart ceremonies usually take place as soon as possible after a servicemember has been wounded in action. Sometimes, however, due to deployment, a Purple Heart is not awarded until the servicemember is back in the United States. To participate in a Purple Heart ceremony, contact the Public Affairs Office at your local military installation, VA hospital, or National Guard unit. They will have a list of the latest award recipients and upcoming ceremonies, which often occur on national holidays. Be sure to bring your challenge coin to the event — if you don't have one, get one!

"Let it be known that he who wears the military order of the Purple Heart has given of his blood in defense of his homeland and shall forever be revered by his fellow countrymen." – General George Washington

Honor & Valor Flights

Bringing World War II, Korean, and Vietnam veterans to their memorials in Washington, D.C.

The Honor Flight Network

The Honor Flight was conceived by Earl Morse, a Physicians Assistant with the VA in Ohio and retired Air Force Captain, to honor America's veterans. In May of 2004, the WWII Memorial was completed and dedicated in Washington, D.C., which quickly became the topic of discussion among his WWII patients. Earl repeatedly asked these veterans if they would visit their memorial. Most felt that eventually, somehow, they would make it to Washington, perhaps with a family member or friend. But for many, despite their desire, the journey was unlikely to become reality. Most of these heroes were in their 80s, and family and friends lacked the resources to make the trip to D.C.

In addition to being a Physician Assistant, Earl was also a private pilot. In December of 2004, Earl asked one of his WWII Veteran patients if he could personally fly him out to D.C., free of charge, to visit his memorial. The man broke down and cried. He said at his age he would probably never get to see his memorial. He accepted the offer. A second WWII Veteran was asked the same question. He too cried and enthusiastically accepted a trip to D.C. Realizing that the desire was so great, Earl began to ask for help from other pilots. In January of 2005, Earl outlined a volunteer program to fellow pilots to fly veterans to the WWII Memorial. There were two stipulations – veterans would pay nothing and that the pilots personally escort the veterans to the Memorial. After Earl spoke, 11 pilots who had never met his patients volunteered to make their dream a reality. The Honor Flight Network was born.

Bringing the Honor Flight to Your District

In 2007, Rep. Jeff Miller felt that this was a program he wanted to bring home to the First District of Florida. More than 7,000 World War II veterans call Northwest Florida home. Congressman Miller and the Board of Emerald Coast Honor Flight made their inaugural flight in the spring of 2008. Since then, more than 925 World War II veterans from the Emerald Coast have traveled to Washington, D.C.

Valor Flight will soon be bringing Korean War veterans to visit the Korean War Memorial, beginning November 12, 2011. To learn more, please click here.

Veterans History Project

Veterans History Project:
A Resource the for U.S. Congress

The Veterans History Project (VHP) at the Library of Congress is a congressionally mandated program to collect, preserve, and share the personal recollections of American wartime veterans so that current and future generations may hear directly from those who served.

15-Minute One-on-One Briefings
VHP staff is available to meet with your staff to explain how your office can participate in VHP programming without draining valuable resources (e.g., staff time). Contact VHP at vhpcongressional@loc.gov to set a meeting time. In the meantime, a few VHP tools are noted here to give you an idea of the resources VHP offers.

VHP Field Kit: A How-to-Record-an-Interview Guidebook
The VHP Field Kit is a straightforward, instructional guidebook is available for download from the Veterans History Project Web site.

VHP Field Kit Companion Video
This 15-minute video explains the VHP process and helps volunteers navigate the VHP Field Kit more easily.

Watch it online from two convenient locations:

- VHP Web site (button is in top right corner of page—RealPlayer required)
- iTunes U has a Veterans History Project Page (Some computer systems access iTunes U more easily than RealPlayer.)

VHP Collections
The over 78,000 stories within the VHP collections are a resource to help you and your staff infuse sometimes dry facts with the power of narrative.

VHP Training Workshop
Consider hosting a training workshop to engage the diverse groups within your district. VHP staff requires a few items from your office in order to provide a VHP Training Workshop:

1) At least four weeks' notice (email vhpcongressional@loc.gov)
2) For you to secure a venue (high school auditorium or VAMC conference room are ideal) for the training workshop, and the physical address of the location.
3) Gather at least 25 potential volunteer interviewers (and we ask that all who participate record at least one interview of a veteran).
4) Designate a point-of-contact on site prior to and on the day of training.
5) Suggest a couple of dates (2 1/2 to 3 hour window) for the training.

Veterans Day 2011 – Make it Meaningful with the Veterans History Project

What: Join in the Veteran History Project's (VHP) Make it Meaningful Initiative by following the straightforward tips provided by the Library of Congress Veterans History Project. A great opportunity to engage your staff and garner media attention.

How: Email vohp@loc.gov with a short description of how your organization plans to join in the Veteran History Project's Make it Meaningful Initiative. Place "Veterans Day 11-11-11" in the subject line. VHP may feature your example as a "best practice" at a later date.

Make it Meaningful?
Veterans Day is an opportunity to create exciting and heartfelt activities to make 11-11-11 more meaningful to the veterans in your workplace.

Range of Activities

- Say "thank you" by learning a little about your veteran's service and craft a personalized note of appreciation and invite him or her to share a story with the Veterans History Project.
- Create a Thank You Board, where staff can write notes of appreciation for the veterans in their organizations and also sign up to volunteer to record VHP interviews of colleagues.
- Observe a moment of silence. Take two minutes at 11:00 AM on November 11th to remember those who have served and for those who are serving.
- Listen to a veteran. Encourage all staff to take 11 minutes at 11 AM to peruse the collections at http://www.loc.gov/vets/stories/themes.html or by downloading free podcasts at http://itunes.apple.com/us/itunes-u/veterans-history-project/id438186138 Many meaningful clips are just a few minutes long.
- Download a VHP Field Kit from www.loc.gov/vets and share it with potential volunteer interviewers and veterans.
- Host a coffee break and invite veterans on staff to come and meet other veterans in the workplace.
- Host an office-wide discussion group based on a Veterans History Project story. Stories may be found at: http://itunes.apple.com/us/itunes-u/veterans-history-project/id438186138

VHP: A VOICE FOR NEW VETERANS

On September 11, 2011, America marked 10 years since the 9/11 attacks. The attacks ushered in the American-led Global War on Terror, which this fall concludes its first decade. More than 2 million Americans have served in Iraq and Afghanistan. As this generation returns home, their stories of service are being preserved by VHP volunteers nationwide.

2008-2011 Paralympic Military and Veterans Programs Highlights

During the past thirty-eight months the USOC Paralympic Military Program has been using several distinct components to collectively enhance the rehabilitation of injured service members and veterans through ongoing activities at local, regional and national levels.

- Training in the development and implementation of sports and physical activity programs for injured service members has been provided to nearly 6,740 community leaders within the past year;
- New programs have been initiated at four DOD Medical Treatment Facilities, 31 Warrior Transition Units, 7 Wounded Warrior Battalions/Detachments and 24 Veterans facilities with ongoing programming, technical assistance and provision of Paralympic mentors;
- Since April 2008, 15,000 injured service members have been introduced to physical activity through ongoing sports programs at the community level in collaboration with Military and Veteran Medical Treatment Facilities and/or installations;
- From 2009 through 2011, grants have been provided to forty-two community/military partnerships throughout the country. These programs will offer approximately 4,100 injured service members sports opportunities to enhance their rehabilitation at the community level;
- More than 270 injured service members have been identified as individuals who have demonstrated the potential to pursue higher levels of athlete training and performance, and;
- Thirteen Veterans, two of which have physical disabilities, have been hired to implement Community, VA, and Military programs.

The USOC and Paralympic Organizations throughout the country continue to utilize existing infrastructure and resources to meet the needs of injured service members and veterans, thus making the program extremely cost effective.

2011 Goals

- Increase the capacity of local leadership at all military installation sites to develop and implement ongoing sports programs;
- Increase daily participation in ongoing sports programs at all military installations;
- Increase training opportunities through participation in camps, clinics and competitions;
- Increase the pool of injured service members/veterans with abilities to participate in higher level training/competitions.

CONNECTING WITH COMMUNITIES

U.S. Paralympics connects communities and organizations that provide sports and recreation opportunities for people with physical and visual disabilities, with an emphasis on youth, injured service members and veterans. It's about putting people and resources together – all across America. The goal: expand Paralympic programs into 250 cities across the U.S.

PREPARING ATHLETES

We work with Paralympic athletes—giving them the training, support, and preparation they need to compete in the Paralympic Games, the second largest sporting event in the world, after the Olympic Games. We sponsor camps and competitions, all designed to prepare them for their moment on the world stage.

PARTNERING WITH SERVICE MEMBERS & VETERANS

The U.S. Olympic Committee's Paralympic Military & Veteran programs use sports to enhance the reconditioning of injured service members and veterans. While still on active duty, military men and women can access Paralympic sport programs at medical treatment facilities and Warrior Transition Units at different installations across the country. U.S. Paralympics provides the training and expertise needed to implement activities that can be adapted for wounded, ill and injured service members.

Upon leaving the military and returning home, U.S. Paralympics works to connect veterans to ongoing programs in their communities so they can continue to lead healthy, active lives along with their family members and friends.

MENTORING

U.S. Paralympics athletes show the world the power of what's possible. Our Paralympic Ambassadors serve as role models and mentors to youth, veterans with physical and visual disabilities, injured servicemen and women and others in communities across the country. These athletes are inspiring all Americans with their stories of perseverance and creating global awareness for the importance of health and wellness for people with physical and visual disabilities.

DEFY THE IMPOSSIBLE

Don't tell us we can't.

Because we don't focus on our limitations. We focus on our possibilities.

We're 21 million strong. But less than 10% of us participate in regular physical activity. That's where U.S. Paralympics comes in. Through sports, U.S. Paralympics shows us the power of what's possible.

Not everyone in this program will become a Paralympic athlete. But U.S. Paralympics isn't just about "going for the gold." It's about living a healthy, active lifestyle.

At U.S. Paralympics, it's not just about elite performance. It's about using sports to inspire possibilities. Because once a person with a disability believes he or she can play volleyball, or swim, or run, it's a small step to believing they can do everyday things as well—the things they may have once seen as impossible.

Research proves daily physical activity:

- Raises self-esteem
- Helps develop peer relationships
- Increases achievement
- Enhances overall health
- Improves quality of life

Most people with physical and visual disabilities don't have the chance to participate in regular sports activities. U.S. Paralympics is working hard to expand these opportunities across the country.

Get involved:

- Visit USParalympics.org/FindAClub to connect to Paralympic sports programs in your community
- Learn about ongoing sports and recreation opportunities for active service members and veterans
- Donate to help our athletes reach their dreams

U.S. Paralympics is a division of the U.S. Olympic Committee. Partnering with community organizations, medical facilities and government agencies, we use sport to empower people living with physical and visual disabilities.

JESSICA LONG
U.S. Paralympian – swimming

Jessica was born in Serbia and adopted from a Russian orphanage at 13 months. Because of lower leg anomalies, her legs were amputated at 18 months. She soon learned to walk with prosthetics, and she has been unstoppable ever since.

It started simply - with the swimming pool in her grandparents' backyard. Jessica fell in love with the water and, before long, she joined a local club team and began competing against other kids her age. Then, Jessica discovered Paralympic swimming.

When she was just 12 years old, Jessica became the youngest athlete to qualify for and compete in the 2004 Paralympic Games in Athens, Greece. Since making her international swimming debut, Jessica has amassed a vast collection of medals and world records and is widely recognized as one of the world's top Paralympic swimmers.

"SPORTS JUST BRING OUT THE POSITIVE IN YOU; I NEVER DWELL ON WHAT I DON'T HAVE."

JUSTIN WIDHALM
Paralympic hopeful

In 2006, Justin was leading his Army sniper team on a mission in Iraq when he fell 25 feet from a Blackhawk helicopter and suffered a broken back and broken knees.

Justin was awarded a Bronze Star and Purple Heart for his bravery and service. But, back at home and enduring hours of painful rehabilitation, Justin was unsure of how his injuries would impact his future career plans and his ability to be a husband and father. In the depths of a deep depression, Justin attempted to take his life. Then, he rediscovered sports.

Throughout his rehabilitation, and now as a veteran living back in his community, the confidence and strength Justin found in sport helped him reconnect with his family, pursue career opportunities and find the joy in life.

Veterans Day 2011 – Make it Meaningful with the Veterans History Project

What: Join in the Veteran History Project's (VHP) Make it Meaningful Initiative by following the straightforward tips provided by the Library of Congress Veterans History Project. A great opportunity to engage your staff and garner media attention.

How: Email vohp@loc.gov with a short description of how your organization plans to join in the Veteran History Project's Make it Meaningful Initiative. Place "Veterans Day 11-11-11" in the subject line. VHP may feature your example as a "best practice" at a later date.

Make it Meaningful?
Veterans Day is an opportunity to create exciting and heartfelt activities to make 11-11-11 more meaningful to the veterans in your workplace.

Range of Activities

- Say "thank you" by learning a little about your veteran's service and craft a personalized note of appreciation and invite him or her to share a story with the Veterans History Project.
- Create a Thank You Board, where staff can write notes of appreciation for the veterans in their organizations and also sign up to volunteer to record VHP interviews of colleagues.
- Observe a moment of silence. Take two minutes at 11:00 AM on November 11th to remember those who have served and for those who are serving.
- Listen to a veteran. Encourage all staff to take 11 minutes at 11 AM to peruse the collections at http://www.loc.gov/vets/stories/themes.html or by downloading free podcasts at http://itunes.apple.com/us/itunes-u/veterans-history-project/id438186138 Many meaningful clips are just a few minutes long.
- Download a VHP Field Kit from www.loc.gov/vets and share it with potential volunteer interviewers and veterans.
- Host a coffee break and invite veterans on staff to come and meet other veterans in the workplace.
- Host an office-wide discussion group based on a Veterans History Project story. Stories may be found at: http://itunes.apple.com/us/itunes-u/veterans-history-project/id438186138

VETERANS HISTORY PROJECT

The Mission of the Veterans History Project of the Library of Congress American Folklife Center is to collect, preserve, and make accessible the personal accounts of American war veterans so that future generations may hear directly from veterans and better understand the realities of war. # NEWS YOU CAN USE

An information-rich desk flyer

Fast facts and compelling stats for speeches, news releases, and talking points

DID YOU KNOW...

- 17.5 million war veterans live in the U.S.—each state has more than 50,000 veterans
- More than 1,000 veterans die every day in the U.S., according to VA statistics
- VHP is the largest grassroots oral history project in U.S. history—more than 75,000 stories
- VHP volunteers have collected more U.S. veterans' histories than anyone else in the world, including:
  - •46,500 WWII
  - •12,900 Vietnam
  - •10,200 Korea
  - •2,300 Persian Gulf
  - •1,600 Iraq/Afghanistan
  - •326 WWI
- More than 10 percent of the VHP collection represent veterans self-identified as minority populations, including:
  - •4,600 Women
  - •1,760 African-Americans
  - •665 Hispanic Americans
  - •205 American Indians
  - •150 Asian-Americans
  - •More than 100 veterans from U.S. territories

VHP asks for your commitment to ensure all veterans are able to share their stories.

VHP: A VOICE FOR NEW VETERANS

On September 11, 2011, America marked 10 years since the 9/11 attacks. The attacks ushered in the American-led Global War on Terror, which this fall concludes its first decade. More than 2 million Americans have served in Iraq and Afghanistan. As this generation returns home, their stories of service are being preserved by VHP volunteers nationwide.

The voices, letters, and photographs of more than 1,600 current conflict veterans are preserved in the Veterans History Project. Nearly 350 stories of current conflict veterans are digitized at http://www.loc.gov/vets.
